

Anti-Bullying Policy.

Date approved by the Full Governing Body: - November 2023

Date of review: - November 2024

Introduction

Bullying, especially if left unaddressed, can have a devastating effect on individuals. It can be a barrier to learning and have serious consequences on an individual's mental health. Bullying which takes place at school does not only affect an individual during childhood but can have a lasting effect on their lives well into adulthood.

Alton Infant School is a highly accepting and inclusive learning community where all are welcome. Our strong ethos and values therefore work effectively against bullying and all that it stands for. By effectively preventing and tackling bullying, Alton Infant School aims to create a safe, secure, engaging environment where pupils are able to learn and fulfil their potential.

As a Rights Respecting school children are taught to understand and respect the dignity, rights, values and beliefs of every individual, including themselves, following the principles based on the United Nations Convention on the Rights of The Child. This then fosters a culture of positivity and a strong knowledge of each other's rights within the school community which, in turn, diminishes any culture of bullying.

The aim of this policy is to ensure that children can learn in a supportive, caring and safe environment without fear. Bullying is anti-social behaviour and affects everyone; it is unacceptable and will not be tolerated.

What is bullying?

Bullying is behaviour by an individual or group, repeated over time, that intentionally hurts another individual or group either physically or emotionally. Bullying can take many forms (for instance, cyber-bullying via text messages, social media or gaming, which can include the use of images and video) and is often motivated by prejudice against particular groups, for example on grounds of race, religion, gender, sexual orientation, special educational needs or disabilities, or because a child is adopted, in care or has caring responsibilities. It might also be motivated by actual or perceived differences between children.

Stopping violence and ensuring immediate physical safety is obviously Alton Infant School's first priority but we also understand and acknowledge that emotional bullying can be as, if not more damaging than physical bullying.

Bullying involves an imbalance of power between the perpetrator and the victim. This could involve perpetrators of bullying having control over the relationship which makes it difficult for those they bully to defend themselves. The imbalance of power can manifest itself in several ways; it may be physical, psychological (knowing what upsets someone), derived from an intellectual imbalance, or by having access to the support of a group, or the capacity to socially isolate. It can result in the intimidation of a person or persons through the threat of violence or by isolating them either physically or online.

Low-level disruption and the use of offensive language can in itself have a significant impact on its target. If left unchallenged or dismissed it can lead to reluctance to report other behaviour. At Alton Infant School, we believe that early intervention can help to set clear expectations of the behaviour that is and isn't acceptable and help stop negative behaviours escalating.

Cyber Bullying:

The rapid development of, and widespread access to, technology has provided a new medium for 'virtual' bullying, which can occur in or outside school. Cyber-bullying is a different form of bullying and can happen at all times of the day, with a potentially bigger audience, and more accessories as people forward on content at a click.

The Education Act 2011 amended the power in the Education Act 1996 to provide that when an electronic device, such as a mobile phone, has been seized by a member of staff who has been formally authorised by the Headteacher, that staff member can examine data or files, and delete these, where there is good reason to do so. This power applies to all schools, including Alton Infant School and there is no need to have parental consent to search through a young person's mobile phone or other electronic device that has wrongfully come into school.

If an electronic device that is prohibited by the school rules has been seized and the member of staff has reasonable ground to suspect that it contains evidence in relation to an offence, they must give the device to the police as soon as it is reasonably practicable. Material on the device that is suspected to be evidence relevant to an offence, or that is a pornographic image of a child or an extreme pornographic image, should not be deleted prior to giving the device to the police. If a staff member finds material that they do not suspect contains evidence in relation to an offence, they can, with the authorisation of the Headteacher, decide whether it is appropriate to delete or retain the material as evidence of a breach of school policy and rules.

All school staff, parents and pupils all have rights and responsibilities in relation to cyberbullying and work together to create an environment in which pupils learn and develop and staff have fulfilling careers free from harassment and bullying.

At Alton Infant School, we offer support to parents on how to help their children engage safely and responsibly with internet-based activities, communication and games. This is achieved through E-Safety information for parents. This includes advice and signposting to other sources of support and advice. Pupils are also taught how to keep safe on the internet and how to communicate on and use the internet appropriately. This is taught through the Key Stage One Computing curriculum and within the technology element of the Early Years Foundation Stage Profile. Pupils also take part in Internet Safety Activities throughout the year. At Alton Infant School, we create a strong school-parent relationship that helps to create an atmosphere of trust and understanding. The school's Computing Subject Leader has also undertaken Child Exploitation and On-line Protection (CEOP) training.

Incidents of cyber bullying are reported and dealt with in the same way as any other bullying incident. Please see 'Policy Implementation' below. We do, believe, however, that EYFS and KS1 pupils are too young to have social media accounts and we recommend that parents ensure that their children do not access social media sites or mobile phones.

All members of the school community, including parents and governors are asked to use social media and internet-based communications responsibly. Staff and governors also sign, and agree to, an ICT code of conduct.

Child-on-child abuse, sexual violence and sexual harassment:

We have a zero-tolerance approach to child-on-child abuse, sexual violence and sexual harassment. We are clear that child-on-child abuse, sexual violence and sexual harassment is not acceptable, will never be tolerated and that it is not an inevitable part of growing up.

For our school response to child-on-child abuse, sexual violence and sexual harassment between children, please see our Child Protection Policy.

Manifestation:

Children who are being bullied may show changes in behaviour, becoming shy and nervous, feigning illness, being absent from school, being 'clingy' with adults. There may be changes in levels of concentration and not wanting to come to school. Children are encouraged to report any anti-social behaviour incidents to staff.

Our statutory duty

Section 89 of the Education and Inspections Act 2006 provides that maintained schools must have measures to encourage good behaviour and prevent all forms of bullying amongst pupils. These measures are part of Alton Infant School's Behaviour Policy and this policy. Both policies are communicated to all pupils, school staff and parents.

At Alton Infant School, we are legally required to comply with the Public Sector Equality Duty (PSED) provision within the 2010 Equality Act. This covers age, disability, gender reassignment, pregnancy and maternity, race, religion or belief, sex and sexual orientation. The Duty requires Alton Infant School and other public bodies to have due regard to the need to:

- Eliminate unlawful discrimination, harassment, victimisation and any other conduct prohibited by the Act.
- Advance equality of opportunity between people who share a protected characteristic and people who do not share it.
- Foster good relations between people who share a protected characteristic and people who do not share it.

Maintained schools and Academies are required to comply with the PSED. At Alton Infant School we understand and acknowledge that Part 6 of the Act makes it unlawful for the school, or any member of its staff, to discriminate against, harass or victimise a pupil or potential pupil in relation to admissions, the way it provides education for pupils, provision of pupil access to any benefit, facility or service, or by excluding a pupil or subjecting them to any other detriment.

In addition to the duties in relation to pupils with disabilities under the Equality Act, Alton Infant School also understands its duties under Part 3 of the Children and Families Act 2014 to ensure that pupils with special educational needs engage in the activities of the school together with children who do not have special educational needs.

Safeguarding children.

When there is 'reasonable' cause to suspect that a child is suffering, or is likely to suffer, significant harm' a bullying incident should be addressed as a child protection concern under the Children Act 1989. Where this is the case, the school staff should discuss matters with the school's Designated Safeguarding Lead (DSL) or one of the Deputy DSLs and report their concerns to Children's Services at Hampshire County Council and work with them to take appropriate action.

However, appropriate external support may be given to pupils whether or not it is deemed a child protection concern. Even where safeguarding is not considered to be an issue, Alton Infant School may draw on a range of external services e.g., the Behaviour Support or Educational Psychology Service, to support the pupil who is experiencing bullying, or to tackle any underlying issue which has contributed to a child engaging in bullying.

Bullying which occurs outside school premises

All members of staff at Alton Infant School have the power to discipline pupils for misbehaving outside of the school premises. Sections 90 and 91 of the Education and Inspections Act 2006 say that a school's disciplinary powers can be used to address pupils' conduct when they are not on school premises and are not under the lawful control or charge of a member of school staff, but only if it would be reasonable for the school to regulate pupils' behaviour in those circumstances. This may include bullying incidents occurring anywhere off the school premises.

Where bullying outside school is reported to school staff, it should be investigated and acted on. The Headteacher will then consider whether it is appropriate to notify parents and take any action against a pupil.

While school staff members have the power to discipline pupils for bullying that occurs outside school, they can only impose the disciplinary sanction and implement that sanction on the school premises or when the pupil is under the lawful control of school staff, for instance on a school trip.

The prevention of bullying

At Alton Infant School, we create an environment and ethos that aims to prevent bullying from being a serious problem in the first place. We believe that pupils learn best in an engaging, safe and calm environment that is free from disruption and in which the main focus is the education of our pupils.

We have a strong Behaviour Policy and aim to: -

- Treat all members of the school community with the utmost levels of acceptance, dignity and respect.
- Create the best learning environment through teamwork and co-operation.
- Value each and every member of the school community as unique and take every opportunity to recognise their achievements.
- Manage unacceptable behaviour with consistency and through interaction with the child and, if appropriate, their wider families.
- Help children to become self-disciplined and take responsibility for their own behaviour.
- Focus on positive and acceptable behaviour and the personal fulfilment that this gives to the individual.
- Develop social skills, strong personal values and high self-esteem amongst pupils.

Therefore, we provide:

- A happy, safe, inclusive and pleasant learning community.
- Excellent adult and peer role models of caring and compassionate, respectful and co-operative behaviour.
- A learning environment where each individual maximises their potential.
- A system that recognises and rewards achievement and positive behaviour.
- Acceptance by all adults in the school of a common responsibility for maintaining good discipline.
- An effective Personal, Social and Health Education curriculum and assemblies that focus on flourishing positive behaviour and relationships amongst pupils.
- An effective Relationships and Health Education curriculum that also helps pupils to flourish and have strong levels of respect and acceptance for each other.

- An effective E-safety curriculum that aims to educate our pupils to behave responsibly whilst on-line.
- Strong links with parents with regard to our school's ethos, values and behaviour policy.
- Positive, supportive and open links with parents in order to deal with any issues immediately and effectively.
- Strong relationships between staff and pupils so that pupils are assured that they are safe, listened to and can report any bullying issues.
- Strong values that are lived out within the school community.
- An Emotional Literacy Support Assistant (ELSA) to support vulnerable pupils.
- Classroom behaviour management strategies and systems that reward positive behaviour and provide sanctions and consequences for negative behaviour.
- A set of pupil learning behaviour values in character form that underpin and permeate school life that are consistently applied, reinforced and understood by all adults and children in the school.

The Learning Behaviour Characters are:-

Curious Cat.

Resilient Tortoise.

Reflective Ladybird.

Considerate Hedgehog.

- Our school vision is also 'alive' within the school community and makes a difference to the behaviour and welfare of pupils. Our vision is: -

Alton Infant School is a Rights Respecting School and all are welcome, accepted and included. Through high levels of care and compassion, we aim to provide an education within which children flourish and thrive academically, emotionally and socially. Our vision is for teaching and learning to be an enjoyable, engaging and memorable experience so that children become happy, confident and creative learners. We believe that each child is unique and we aspire to unlock each child's individual gifts and talents.

We also have a clear system of steps towards positive behaviour that are consistently used throughout the school and include: -

- 1) Engaging quality first teaching that includes positive praise and is related to learning behaviours and values.

- 2) Appropriate adjustments to meet the needs of a particular child or group.
- 3) Consistent use of classroom management systems (e.g., class rainbows) that could result in a loss of privileges – e.g., losing some Golden Time.
- 4) Time out from the classroom with Headteacher or Deputy Headteacher.
- 5) Working with parents and engaging with outside agencies.

Intervention – Support for pupils who are bullied.

At Alton Infant School, we have a responsibility to support children who are bullied and make appropriate provision for a child's needs. The nature and level of support will depend on the individual circumstances and the level of need. School staff will support all pupils who are bullied and be alert to the effect any form of bullying can have and being especially alert to where it may have a severe impact.

Children who have been bullied will be supported by:

- Offering an immediate opportunity to discuss the experience with a class teacher or member of staff of their choice.
- Working with and supporting the child's parents and wider family. Reassurance and appropriate support to ensure continued positive well-being.
- Offer of continuing support with members of staff and particularly with the school's Emotional Literacy Support Assistant.
- Working with the child to restore self-esteem and confidence.
- If appropriate, working with outside agencies to support the child as appropriate.
- If appropriate, working with the pupil, to restore any difficult relationships.

Intervention – Discipline and tackling underlying issues of bullying

Alton Infant School will apply disciplinary measures to pupils who bully in order to show clearly that their behaviour is wrong. Disciplinary measures will be applied fairly, consistently, and reasonably taking account of any special educational needs or disabilities that the pupils may have and will consider the needs of vulnerable pupils.

Alton Infant School will also consider the motivations behind bullying behaviour and whether it reveals any concerns for the safety or well-being of the perpetrator. Where this is the case the child engaging in bullying will be given support themselves.

Children who have been the perpetrator will be helped by:

- Discussing what has happened.
- Discovering why the child became involved in bullying behaviour.
- Discovering and dealing with any of the motivations or 'drivers' behind bullying incidents. Dealing with this on an on-going basis in order to turn around reasons for behaviour. Establishing the wrong doing and putting in actions that will result in a need to change.

- Targeting and focusing on steps towards changing negative behaviour into positive behaviour
- Informing and supporting parents/carers to help change the attitude and behaviours of the child
- Understanding and supporting any further concerns for the perpetrator's well-being.
- Offer of continuing support with members of staff and particularly with the school's Emotional Literacy Support Assistant.
- If appropriate, working with the child to restore self-esteem and confidence.
- If appropriate, working with outside agencies to support the child as appropriate.
- If appropriate, working with the pupil, to restore any difficult or broken relationships.

The following disciplinary steps may also be taken:

- Official warnings to cease offending.
- Sanctions as outlined above and in the school's Behaviour Policy.
- Exclusion from certain areas of the school premises. Any exclusion will remain in place for as long as necessary.
- Minor fixed term suspension as outlined in the school's Exclusions Policy.
- Major fixed term suspension as outlined in the school's Exclusions Policy.
- Permanent exclusion as outlined in the school's Exclusions Policy.

Policy Implementation:

The following steps may be taken when dealing with incidents:

- If bullying is suspected or reported, the incident will be dealt with immediately by the member of staff in line with this policy and the school's Behaviour Management Policy
- A clear account of the incident will be recorded and given to the Headteacher or related verbally to the Headteacher who will record it with the member of staff.
- The Headteacher will interview all concerned and make a written record the interview.
- Class teachers, HLTAs, TAs, SNAs and support staff will be kept informed.
- Parents of all parties will be informed.
- Corrective and support measures as described above will be used as appropriate and in consultation with all parties concerned.
